

The Southern Rhode Island Conservation District (SRICD) invites you to participate in two exciting video conference events in July 2020.

Southern District Natural Resources Discussion

July 10 12:30pm

We are inviting farmers, forest owners, and landowners in Washington and Kent Counties to a discussion with our Board of Directors and NRCS District Conservationist, Melissa Hayden via a group video conference. This is your opportunity to let us know about your natural resource concerns and how USDA-NRCS Farm Bill programs are working for you. We will specifically be discussing the Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP) during this meeting. Your feedback will be used to provide recommendations to NRCS on local natural resource priorities and the criteria used to shape the process for assigning priorities and allocating funds from USDA-NRCS programs in the upcoming year.

Virtual Farm Tour at the Lazy K Ranch in Richmond

July 2, 2020 10am

SRICD is taking our conservation farm tours digital and will be hosting our first ever LIVE, online farm tour at the Lazy K Ranch. You can watch and ask us questions LIVE on several platforms including our website and Facebook. District Manager, Gina Fuller, SRICD Conservation Planner, Jake Peterson, and Alan Kinsley, owner and operator of the Lazy K will tour the alpaca farm and discuss how working with SRICD and NRCS through EQIP has improved his operations and allowed him to participate in the Conservation Stewardship (CSP) program. If you are unable to join us live, you will be able to watch the recorded video on our website and Facebook page after the event and call or email us with your questions.

Watch and participate on our webpage www.sricd.org or our Facebook page
