

Phase II Storm Water Management Plans

Town of Cumberland, RI
Town of Narragansett, RI

Through an inclusive public process and close collaboration with town officials, SRICD staff developed Storm Water Management Plans that drew kudos from the Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management.

In accordance with RIPDES Phase II general permit requirements, the plans include strategies for public education and involvement, better construction and post construction practices, detection and elimination of illicit discharges, and the reduction of polluted storm water contributions from municipal facilities and practices.

Cumberland's plan will protect such resources as the Blackstone River shown here.

A storm water outfall in Narragansett.

Narragansett's plan will protect such resources as Point Judith Pond shown here.